Most ADDs (formerly known as CADPs: Combined Advanced Degree Programs) combine a Rowan University undergraduate degree with a graduate-level degree. Students typically work on an accelerated track, and are permitted to double-count up to 12 sh/credits toward both degrees, and pay the undergraduate rate for those 12 credits, however, programs may deviate from this model. Students in an ADD cannot also use Senior Privilege to take additional graduate coursework as an undergraduate student above the 12 graduate credits (or otherwise, as determined by the specific ADD agreement) permitted as part of the ADD. ABOUT THIS FORM

1. It confirms your acceptance into this particular Accelerated Dual Degree program: Students must be formally evaluated and admitted to an ADD by both the undergraduate and graduate program Coordinators/Advisors. Submission of this form by your ADD advisor to the University Registrar will confirm your acceptance into the program and ensure that all of your academic records are updated to reflect your ADD status.

2. It confirms your understanding of the responsibilities you will have as an ADD student: Because the ADDs often include requirements outside of coursework, and/or requirements before the formal start of the graduate year, we ask you to sign and have your ADD advisor return this Student Agreement to the Office of the University Registrar in order to confirm your understanding of both academic and administrative expectations.
   - Before signing, please be sure you have (or obtain from your host college/department), the academic requirements for this specific program. This should include an official Program Guide, as well as an outline of any and all academic items required in addition to coursework, such as benchmarks, testing, field placement/clinical hours, GPA minimums, etc.
   - Before signing, please review the administrative requirements for this type of degree program, which are included in the "ADD Policies and Procedures" listed here: https://sites.rowan.edu/registrar/cadp/cadp-policies-and-procedures.html.
